THE FARM, GARDEN AND DAIRY

Little Paragraphs That will Interest Every Member of the Household

Rose bugs—kerosene them.

Potato bugs—Paris green them.

Humming—touch them not.

Good farming and good men are inseparable. The one can not be had without the other.

One hour a day well spent in a well regulated garden will furnish the family in the year round.

The desert lands of the West are waiting to be the gardens of the coming agriculturists of America. Irrigation is doing it.

Hens will use a great deal of milk every day if they can get it, and it is a most perfect food for them, too. It contains all the stuff for producing eggs and lots of them.

Now this is a mistake; we can not keep ourselves fresh without sufficient rest and sleep. It is all right to get up early; the lazy lie-a-bed farmer never accomplishes much.

When the little chap on your farm does a really good thing, tell him so. There is a day coming when there will be no "little chap" at your house. The more's the pity, too!

To destroy fleas, scatter bits of fleece wool where they have been found. After a few hours, gather the wool and drop it into boiling water. The fleas will have hidden in it.

California's botanical wizard has originated a potato that grows its crop above ground. That may be an improvement, but a device to grow the potato bug 10 feet underground would be more appropriate.

Have you been too busy to see the beauties that are all around you on the farm to-day? Don't go to bed till you have stepped out and taken one good long look at the world. It will help you to sleep better.

Farm economy demands that every thing around be made to contribute, and if there are no "give backs" from a fold "given out," it's a loss. A lot of cockroaches kept after crowing begin to congregate, and that is the reason of their increase.

A boy's conception of how to make the hen fill the egg basket can hardly be improved upon. Said he: "I make my hens scratch so hard for grub that they are glad to get on the nest and lay an egg so that they may rest awhile."

It is a wonderfully good thing to do our farm work with some other thought than self in mind. We do not milk our cows, plow our fields and dig the garden all for self—or ought not to. So we plant trees, clear up our fields and build up our farms for the men of to-morrow. And this is just as it should be.

We understand that the Department of Agriculture has recently established a division for the study of nails, wire, fencing, etc., used by farmers. Good idea! There has been much complaint lately, regarding the poor quality of such manufactured articles and it's high time that somebody took the matter in hand.

Now and then farmers think they will live longer and be happier if they leave the old place and go where they will not have to work. It is a mistake, and they find it so sooner than they desire. It is not worth that kills; work keeps men alive. A farmer may live without anything to eat, for a while. He can go without very fine clothes, and still be comfortable; but without work he soon finishes his course on this old earth.

The farmer's wife hasn't got a thing to do now butways that setting hens, hover about the little chicks, milk the cows, attend to the milk, churn butter, feed the pigs, look after the young calves, watch baby carry the water, make the garden, do the cooking, baking, scrubbing, clean the house, make the beds, wash the dishes, wash and iron the clothes and a few other little things. Her days are one long, sweet song in the spring and summer time, and when the sun goes down she has a few chores to do, just enough to keep her mind occupied until about 9 o'clock when she can go to bed feeling refreshed and frisky. In the morning she is awakened early by the victorious screech of a rooster out in the garden inviting all his female friends to come in and have a nip. A pleasant sound, one that brings a smile to her lips and a twinkle in her eye—absent.

TO CONFER IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15th.—Japan having positively refused to agree to the selection of any capital in Europe, and Russia being equally determined against any place in Asia, America's national capital was to-day selected as the seat of negotiations between the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan for a treaty of peace.

The choice of Washington as the location of the peace conference marks another forward step in the negotiations toward ultimate peace in the Far East initiated by President Roosevelt.

Official announcement of the selection of Washington was made by Secretary Loeb at the White House at 1:23 P. M. to-day. It was in type-written form and read as follows:

When the two Governments were unable to agree on either Chicago or Paris, the President suggested, The Hague, and both Governments have now requested that Washington be chosen as the place of meeting, and the President has accordingly formally notified both Governments that Washington will be so selected.

DICKIE SENTENCED

In the Federal Court Wednesday afternoon John T. Dickey, who, in the morning, had pleaded guilty to causing lottery tickets to be shipped from San Francisco to Wilmington was sentenced by Judge Edward G. Bradford to pay a fine of $100 and to be imprisoned in the New Castle County Workhouse for ten months. He was taken to the workhouse by United States Marshal William R. Flynn and immediately began his sentence.

The action of Dickey pleading guilty to the charge and the sentence of imprisonment imposed by the court occasioned general surprise and considerable sympathy was expressed for the convicted man. It had been expected that Dickey would make a hard fight as he had secured William S. Hilles and the law firm of Saulsbury, Ponder and Curtis to defend him. Dickey was indicted on Tuesday afternoon of having caused lottery tickets to be shipped from San Francisco to Wilmington and it is also understood that he made a confession to District Attorney John P. Nields.

The accused was arraigned Wednesday morning. William S. Hilles and James W. Ponder, his counsel were present and Mr. Ponder waived the reading of the indictment. Then Mr. Hilles pleaded guilty on behalf of Dickey and asked that sentence be imposed during the day. The court then fixed 2 o'clock as the time for the sentence. In view of the accused having pleaded guilty and also having made a confession of the whole matter it was generally expected about the Federal building and on the streets that he would escape with a heavy fine.

At 2 o'clock Dickey appeared in court for sentence. He was accompanied by Patrick J. Mundy his bondsman, Mr. Hilles and Mr. Ponder his counsel. The only others who were present were the reporters and the court officials. Dickey was ready for his sentence and was told to stand up. The court then sentenced him to pay a fine of $100, be imprisoned for ten months in the New Castle County Workhouse and committed him to the care of the marshal. There was surprise on the faces of everyone in the court room when the sentence of imprisonment was imposed. Dickey appeared crushed but held up well under the ordeal. His counsel and District Attorney Nields also showed sympathy which they felt by their looks while Patrick J. Mundy, the friend and bondsman for Dickey, cried like a child.

GIRL BURNED TO DEATH

A distressing accident occurred Sunday afternoon, when Grace May, the 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. James E. Meredith, of Centreville, Md., was burned to death. The accident occurred about 5 o'clock and the child died about five hours later.

The girl, it appears, had kindled a fire in the kitchen stove preparatory to getting supper, and had placed considerable paper on the flames. A sudden puff of wind blew the flames in her direction, igniting the child's clothing.

She screamed and ran to the yard, in the direction of her mother, but before she could reach her, her clothes were burned almost off.

Only the immediate family and a few friends were present and there were no attendants. Dr. and Mrs. Mowbray have left on a wedding trip.

816 Wells Street, MARQUETTE, Wis., Sept. 25, 1903. I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and my young doctor of Marquette was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex. I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, but as I had to use a great deal I found it restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.
